Since Japan and Indonesia established bilateral relations in 1958, the two countries have been dedicated to the principle of mutual respect and a spirit of partnership that has enabled the relationship to grow beyond economic and political ties and exemplified friendship and social responsibility.

Over the last decade, Japan has become one of Indonesia's top export destinations. 2016 saw Japanese exports shoot up by approximately 35 percent, while imports from Japan have decreased by almost 9 percent. Today, there are over 1,000 Japanese companies in Indonesia and new joint ventures and partnerships are being established across a range of industries.

“Recently, we passed the $1 trillion economy mark, our stock index hit a record high and our credit rating improved dramatically,” Sony Chairman and CEO Kenichiro Hibi said at a joint business forum on
